2020

INDONESIAN SUSTAINABLE PALM OIL (ISPO)

ISPO is a standard that has been set by the Indonesian government through PERMENTAN no. 11 of 2015 which requires all oil palm plantations to be ISPO certified.

The AEP Group's commitment all companies must obtain ISPO certificates.

12 companies of AEP group have obtained ISPO certificate and 4 companies have passed ISPO stage 1.

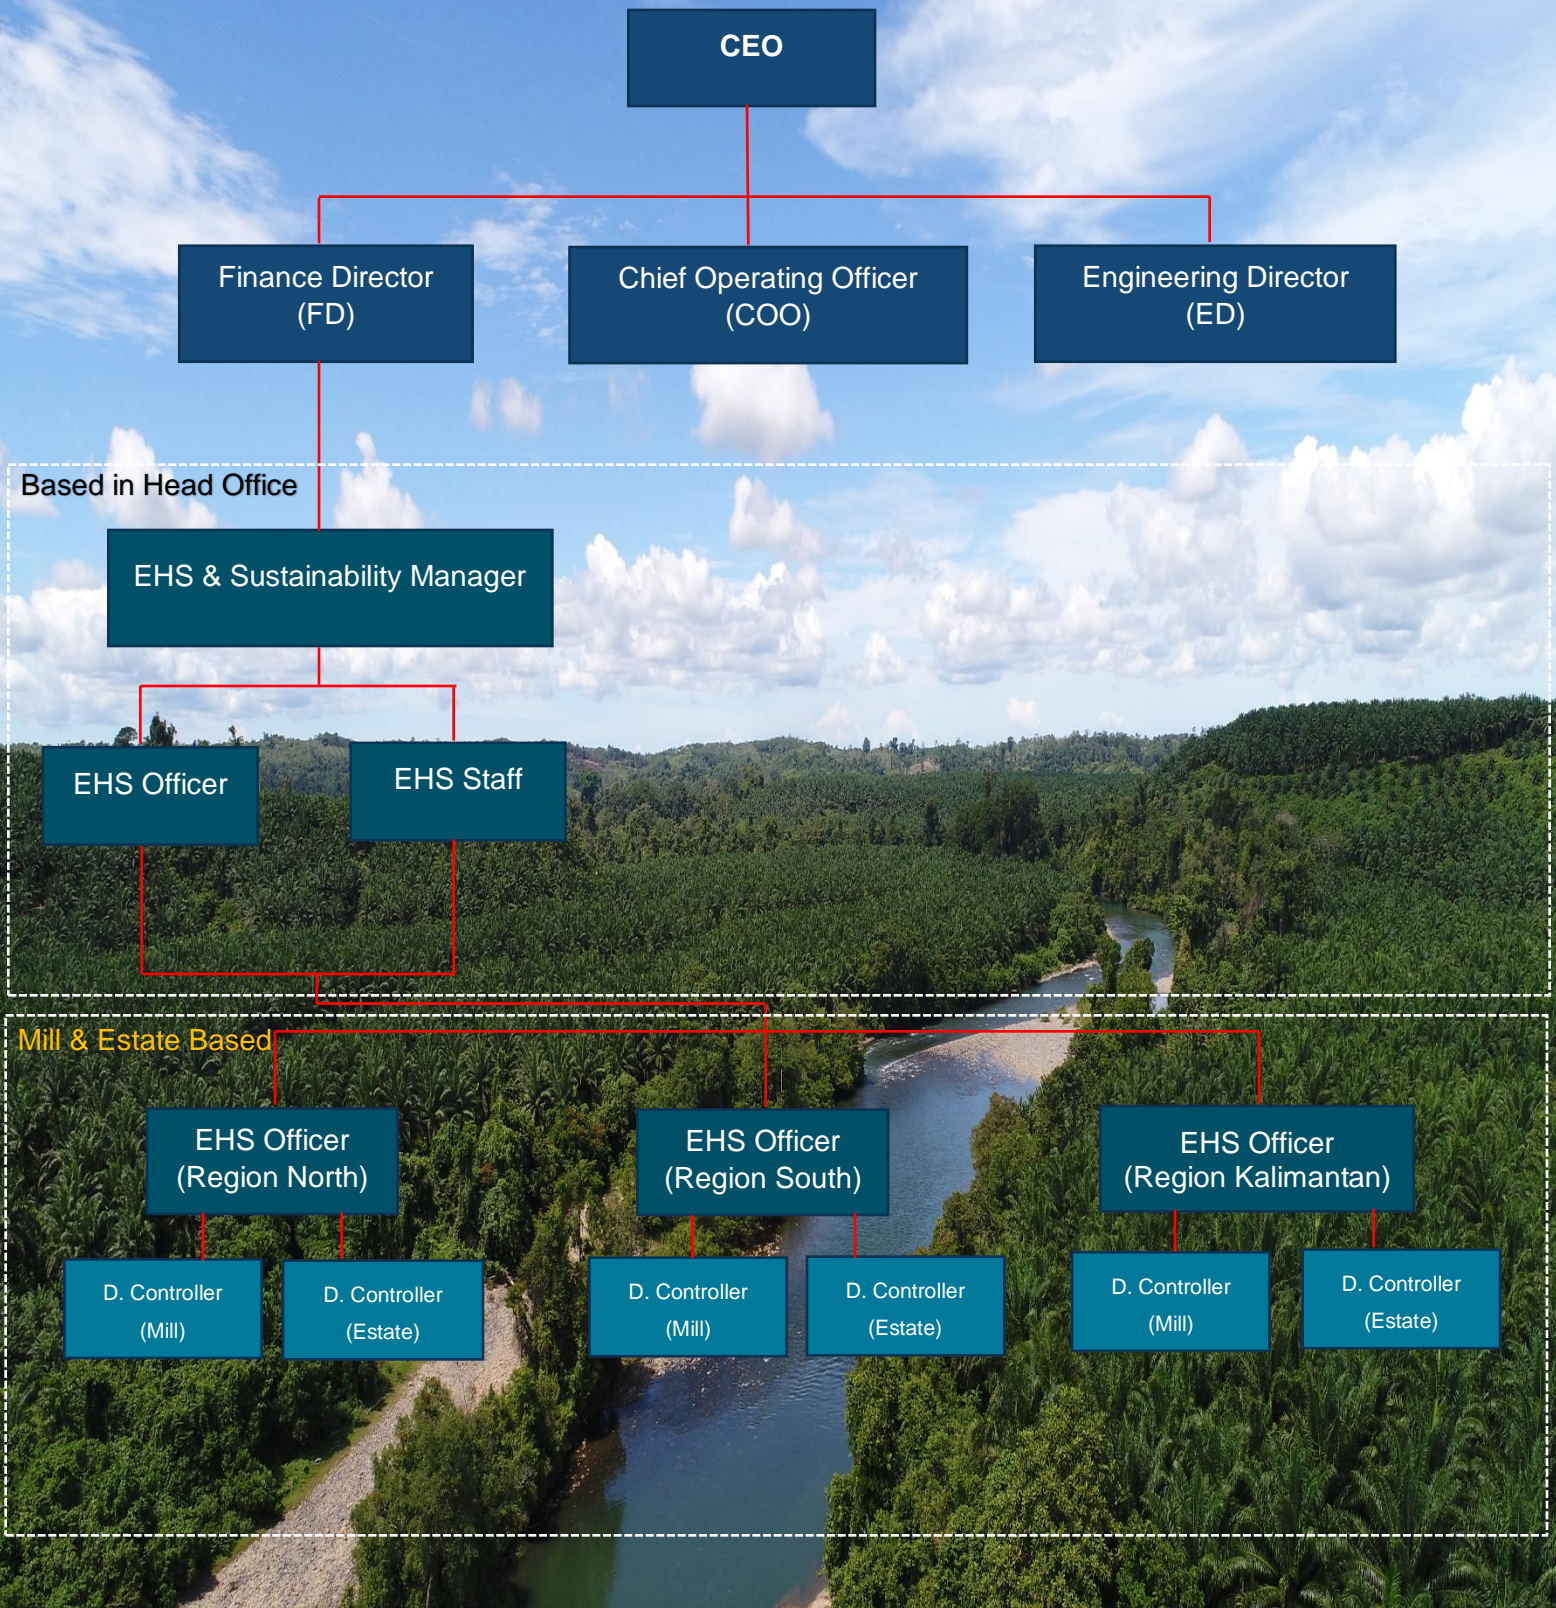

CREATING A CULTURE OF SUSTAINABILITY

Sustainability : from policy to practice

The certification scheme provides guidelines and targets for companies in maintaining consistency in the implementation of the standards that have been running so far. Therefore, the AEP Group is committed to creating a culture of sustainability that can be embedded at every level of the organization so that every department and individual aware of achieving a culture of sustainability.

The EHS & Sustainability Department is responsible for monitoring each Estate and Mill unit for consistent implementation. And also not only responsible for ensuring compliance with P&C certification standards but also regularly providing internal training (K3LH, HCV, etc.) and other matters related to sustainability. Third parties are also involved in compulsory compliance with EHS & sustainability standards as outlined in the contract.
